

Jeremy Lee Kenney

Washington, DC

www.jeremykenney.com

Email: jeremyleekenney@gmail.com | jkenney@rnchq.org

---

Objective: To build web-based applications and manage databases in support of the Republican Party.

Education: Masters of Public Administration, University of Baltimore, January, 2001.
Bachelor of Arts in Political Science, Western Maryland College, Westminster, Md., May 1993.

Technology: ASP.NET (VB), ASP, SQL, Flash, JavaScript, HTML, Adobe-Photoshop, Adobe-Image-Ready, MS-Access, MS-Visual Studio (Visual Basic)

---

Technological Experience:

Republican National Committee (RNC): Washington, D.C.

- (1/2003 to Present) – Director of Applications Development & Database Administrator – Responsible for the development of web-based information systems in support of the Republican Party. Some applications featured were: Republican Platform Committee 2008, RepublicanForAReason.com, Delegate Certification 2008, GOPValentine.com, Kerry vs. Kerry, Kerryopoly, Democrat Debate Bingo, Tax Invaders, Spendometer, Kerryoke, The 72-Hour Volunteer Deployment application, and the RNC Post-Election Employee Application. I was featured in The New York Times, "In These Games, the Points Are All Political", 07/01/04. Applications have also appeared on Fox News Sunday (FoxNews), Hannity & Colmes (FoxNews), Meet The Press (NBC), This Week (ABC), Inside Politics (CNN), and on many other TV and print media outlets.
- (3/2001 to 1/2003) – Junior Applications Developer – Supported the development of web applications using Active Server Pages talking to SQL databases. Designed HTML pages and HTML emails. Wrote JavaScript for various client-side web applications.

Management Experience:

National Republican Senatorial Committee (NRSC): Washington, D.C.

- (3/2000 to 3/2001) – Senior Analyst - Lead research analyst for campaign races in DE, MD, NJ, NY and PA while serving as a senior database manager for the Research Department.
- (5/1998 to 3/2000) - Junior Analyst Supervisor - Managed a department-wide database while supervising a team of ten Junior Analysts who conducted opposition research in support of Republican senatorial candidates. Conducted hiring of employees while balancing a biweekly budget.

University of Baltimore: Baltimore, MD

- (5/1994 to 5/1998) - Research Analyst - Baltimore, Md. Researched individual alumni, corporations and foundations for philanthropic purposes while attending graduate school.

